GUEST SPEAKER

Alex Ferguson

Has begun his sixth decade in policing. After three tours in Viet Nam as a Military Police officer and Sergeant, he obtained his B.S. in law enforcement administration and M.S. in criminal justice education from Eastern Kentucky University. He served with the Kentucky Department of Justice, Bureau of Training, in 1976 and 1977 and began his career with the Illinois State Police in the fall of 1977. He retired as a Deputy Director of the Illinois State Police in 2002 after experience at the command level for many years in both administrative and operational capacities. Following his state police career, he served as Chief of the Bluffton, South Carolina, Police Department and as the Associate Director of the Southern Police Institute at the University of Louisville. He left the Institute in 2009 and currently teaches and consults on a contract basis. He has instructed thousands of command level officers from jurisdictions throughout the United States. He is the recipient of the Award of Achievement and Problem Solving Award from the Illinois State Police and the Distinguished Service Award from the Southern Police Institute. He was also recognized as one of the top ten police officers by the International Chiefs of Police and Parade magazine. He lives in Springfield, Illinois with his wife, Carol. They have three sons, one of whom is an Officer with the Las
